nomination of Roy O. West, of Chicago, to be secretary of the interior. West himself was before the committee at two sessions yesterday and testified that his connection with the contract was routine.

Work, who resigned to manage the campaign of Herbert Hoover, appeared before the committee with a seven-page printed statement about the Sinclair contract.

"Before the renewals were made, the statement read, "the executive officers of the department carefully construed the law, having in view all the facts and the complete data of the case, and recommended renewal."

The department of justice later in-

FIRE TELLS OLD INDIAN HISTORY

Preserves Relics of Pueblo Tribes; Inhabitants Were Trapped.

Washington.—A tragic conflagration which laid waste a western Indian village more than two thousand years ago is now proving an aid to modern science. The flames left the charred ruins in a state particularly favorable to preservation through the centuries. A Smithsonian scientist, who excavated the abandoned village this summer, has found there important evidence of a missing link in America's prehistory.

The village is in a remote district of southwest Colorado on the Piedra river. Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts, Jr., Smithsonian archeologist, has found there in the ruins a variety of skulls, many bone and stone implements, and 250 pieces of pottery. These finds are now being studied by scientists at the Smithsonian Institution, and Doctor Roberts believes that they may be pronounced acceptable evidence of the hitherto missing link in the development of the prehistoric Pueblo people.

The oldest known inhabitants of the Southwest were the Basketmaker Indians, who did not learn to make pottery until the closing days of their era. These were followed by the cliff-dwelling Pueblos, whose unique domestic habits and signs of high intelligence have made them a subject of intensive scientific research.

Fate of Basketmakers.
"One of the major questions confronting the archeologist and anthropologist in America today," said Doctor Roberts, "concerns what happened to these Basketmaker Indians who immediately preceded the Pueblos. Did the Basketmakers mix peacefully with the Pueblo tribes and lose their identity in the course of generations? Or were they wiped out by warfare?"

"While I cannot answer the questions definitely now, my finds of this summer seem to throw important light on it, indicating that the first alternative is correct, and that the Basketmakers did not perish suddenly as a race."

Pueblo Skulls Found.
The architecture of the newly excavated village is of a transition type, between the old style Basketmaker houses and the late Pueblo ideas. All but three of the skulls are Pueblo in type, round headed with artificial flattening of the head caused by binding the babies' skulls to the cradles. The other three are long headed and not flattened, representing the older race and the older idea of baby handling. The bone needles and tools were comparatively primitive, representing the older culture, but the pottery showed progress into the art ideals of the Pueblos.

The fire trapped some of the inhabitants of the village and their charred skeletons were found still lying in the ruins of their homes. Jars filled with corn, beans and dried fruit, lying about the homes, indicated that the harvest had just been gathered when the catastrophe occurred.

Historic Flag Lost in Civil War Found

Mexico, Mo.—Mining about 1864, when the remnants of the regiment commanded at Fort Shelby, the historic flag of the Second Missouri Cavalry Infantry has been found at the home of Joseph E. Gates at St. Joseph, Mo.

Gen. F. M. Carroll, who commanded the regiment, brought it to the latter part of the war, instituting the march. He said he had not seen it since it was taken from its stand at the time of the surrender.

The flag was made by women of Adams county, Missouri, during the early months of the conflict and figured in 87 engagements during the four years of the war.

The flag is of buff, five by three feet, with eleven stripes of red, white and blue, the coat of arms of Missouri and eleven silver stars in a field of blue in the upper left-hand corner.

Port Jervis, N. Y.—Engineer W. G. Gerlach's keen eyes and quick brain saved Dorothy Spencer, two years of age, of Mastic, Pa., as she sat playing on the Erie railroad track a few miles west of here recently.

Gerlach was making fast time with a 92-car freight train when he saw a wisp of white down the track. It might be paper, dog or child—he didn't know. But he threw his hand on the lever, and jarred the train to a halt just in time. The fireman hopped off, picked up the child, and Dorothy was later turned over to her mother.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Dec. 12 (AP).—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets).—Today's arrivals of up-state New York celery were light while receipts from California were moderate. The market was without material change. The demand was less active. Celery in the rough wholesaled at $2.45 per two-thirds crate. California stock in large crates brought $1.50-$1.75.

Onion trading was exceedingly slow and the market ruled very dull. The best yellows from the middle west were scarce and sold at $1.50 per 100-pound sack. Onions from Holland sold at $2.00-$2.25, occasionally $2.50.

New York city's onion receipts during the previous week totaled 350 cars, of which the equivalent of 250 cars was imported from Spain and Holland.

The undertone of the market for some cabbage was rather dull and values tended lower. Supplies were moderate but the demand was slow. Jobbing sales on White Island in bulk were made at $10-$12 per ton and on Red at $13-$15. One year ago White Danish cabbage brought $15-$18 per ton and Red $20-$25.

Supplies of state apples were moderate. The market situation was without important change, especially on fancy fruit. U. S. grade No. 1, 2 1/2 inch Baldwins specified out at $2.50-$3.00 per barrel. McIntoshes ranged from $1.50-$1.75. Empire apples from Holland sold at $2.00-$2.25, occasionally $2.50.

Carrot receipts from Western New York were moderate. The market ruled steady with trading fair. Choice bunches of untrimmed carrots were at $1.00-$1.25. On the other hand, last season's crop of the same were reported at $1 per sack.

Supplies of white potatoes were moderate. The demand was limited but the market and values remained about unchanged. Green Mountain potatoes in bulk from Long Island sold at $2.50-$2.75 per 100 pounds while up-state New York round whites realized much around $2.

Printed Jersey Frock With Kerchief Collar

With a few settings a good wool jersey is as easily handled as any firmly woven goods. Run the needles along the bias edges directly after the pieces are cut. Draw up threads just enough to give the pieces the exact shape of the pattern. You will find that pressing, stitching or even ripping cannot stretch the piece out of shape. This frock which has been planned especially for jersey by the Women's Home Companion features one of the year's smartest innovations, printed jersey, developed along the latest of the season's lines. The kerchief collar, cuffs and belt are extremely fine and with examples of this fabric in a plain color.

Brothers Die in Feud Over Girl

New York, Dec. 12 (AP).—A long-standing feud between two brothers over a girl ended early today in murder and suicide.

The brothers, Robert Becker, 41, and William, 39, made their home with two sisters in Whitehouse, Long Island, and according to the story the sisters told the police they had been quarreling thirteen years over a girl whose affections William accused the brother of alienating while he was in France.

Early today when William returned home the quarrel was resumed and the sisters fearing violence hurried for the police. When they arrived they found William unconscious on the floor with two bullet wounds. Robert admitted the shooting and said his brother had threatened his life. He collapsed when placed under arrest and both were removed to a hospital. There it was found Robert had taken poison. Both died shortly after being admitted.

The girl, whose affections caused the feud, married another man nine years ago.

Train Now Featured by Many New Evening Gowns

The return of the train is definitely established in a number of the latest models, observes a fashion writer in the New York Times. One lately evening gown using it, designed by Louisboulanger, is made of permanent moire in a lustrous shade of pale gold. It is cut on princess lines and seemed from shoulder to hem to form panels that flare about the bottom. The back of the gown has a widening panel begun at one shoulder, which comes down to form a train, spreading out on the floor. A coat of the gold moire lined with matgold velvet flares wide below the hips, and dips at the back in the manner of the train, with a high collar and cuffs of sable to add to its distinction.

Another evening wrap created by Paul Poiret is made of gold lame with a train that falls away from the garment, beginning at the waistline. It is made of a width of the fabric, untrimmed. The coat is bordered around the neck, the front, bottom, and on the long, flowing sleeves with wide sections of black fox.

Rings Now Being Used to Hold Scarf in Place

Scarf rings are an important item for holding many of the new scarfs in place. One of the new devices is made in two parts, one like a ring, though thick, deep and wide and with one side flat, and the other a barrel shape, with one side flat also. Both ends of the scarf are pulled through these two sections in such a way as to hold the scarf firmly in place and at the same time display the ornament to advantage. The colors are copied from the natural shades of jade, coral, ivory, jet, lapis, corneilian amber and tortoise shell. Another type of scarf fastener is of metal with a silver finish. Old emblems, crests and insignias are used in the designs. A narrow bar in back, like any noted on an ordinary buckle, is used to provide a space to pull the scarf ends through.

Some lovely scarfs of tinsel tissue are shown for ready wear with negligees. These are very cleverly draped to give the effect of a shirt and overgarment, somewhat like a Chinese coat.

Buckles Again Smart; Modernistic in Design

The buckle is smart again. This season selects the sort of buckle that is expressive of the age—usually modernistic in design and having a definite decorative value in the scheme of the frock by reason of its jewel-like appearance. Semiprecious stones are used extensively, notably crystal and onyx.

Buttons are seen in various sizes—some having a practical reason for existence, others used for colorful contrast, and still others, notably rhinestone-studded large ones, for decoration.

Scarfs to Wear With Tweeds and Fur Coats

If you are wondering whether the couturiers are continuing to sponsor the scarf, you'll be interested to know that they are, and chief among these adherents is Chanel who has designed a new scarf to wear with tweeds and fur coats. It is of redier jersey with modernistic stripes and spots in red and green, yellow and brown, red beige and blue, orange beige and brown, bright blue and beige, or red and beige.

"TOUCHY" LATIN-AMERICANS

Thoughtless comment on the "excessive pride" and "touchy sensitiveness" of the Latin-Americans, especially noticeable where the question of their sovereignty is concerned, has evoked the following pointed observation from the New York World:

The reason why the sensitiveness of the Latin-Americans to encroachment on their sovereignty is exhibited so often is due to the fact that they have witnessed so many encroachments on their sovereignty. The United States has intervened with military force thirty-one times since 1898 in nine different Latin-American countries. All these interventions have of course been carried on with the highest motives and only under urgent necessities. Nevertheless there have been thirty-one interventions in about thirty years and if the Latin-Americans are sensitive on the subject they do not, it seems to us, exhibit an excessive pride. They are merely human. These thirty-one interventions, which constitute something remarkably like an assertion of our hegemony in the Caribbean region, are what Latin-Americans have in mind when they talk about (American) imperialism.

It is worth while to remember also that these thirty-one interventions since 1898 do not tell the whole story. After assisting in the freeing of Texas from the rule of the motherland of Mexico, we took from that neighboring republic by force of arms in 1846-48 territory to the extent of a great empire, now included in California, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, Utah and the western part of Colorado. Historical knowledge of what happened in the 1840's no doubt adds to the suspicion and apprehension caused among Latin-Americans by our thirty-one interventions with military force since 1898.

THE BOLT FROM THE BLUE.

The recent meteoric display, where it was seen at all, excited admiration and awe but little fear. This was because human experience for the most part has produced a feeling of security. So little damage is known to have been done, and such as is known has been so invariably in remote sections, that expectation of disaster has practically ceased in civilized lands. But from time to time there has been serious damage, and there has been a startling example not so long ago. Tales of a prodigious meteoric stone that fell in a remote section of Siberia caused Prof. Gulik of the Soviet Academy of Science to believe they had basis and to organize a search. An account of what was finally found in the summer of 1927 in part reads:

For four days they struggled painfully through a mass of fallen trees, uprooted as though by an explosion. On the fourth day these changed to tangled trunks charred by fire, and then they came out on a bare plateau, a true "bleed heath", where over an area of more than 100 square miles living growth had vanished. This was where the meteor struck, and Prof. Gulik concluded that it must have been the greatest known. The surface of the ground was pitted with enormous holes 150 feet or more in diameter, while the meteorite had split into millions of fragments like shrapnel of the dimensions of a huge shell. It was impossible to estimate the total mass, but the deviations of the compass showed that vast quantities of meteoric iron were buried in the earth.

If one of these "thunderstorms" or spreading "shrapnel" from the heavens should strike a populous city, the devastation and death would be incalculable. Fortunately the greater part of the world's land surface is relatively empty. It is also fortunate that really destructive meteoric showers are rare and that fully three-fourths of these (as it is conjectured) come down harmlessly somewhere in the far greater part of the globe's surface included in the seven seas.

Newspaper correspondents with Mr. Hoover, seeking information from Peruvian schoolboys in Lima, were told that among the principal exports of the country were "deportados." That is, exiled statesmen. Asked regarding the political parties in the country, they replied that there were two parties, one in office and the other in jail. The president of Peru and head of the party in power is pronounced by every one a cultured and charming gentleman and an efficient ruler. The visitors were delighted, too, with many of his associates in office. It is much the same in some of the other countries. Still and all, in spite of our sometimes defective manners and methods up here on the broad wastelands of North America, we can't help feeling that there's some merit in our Anglo-American tolerance of dissenting minorities.

Congress, from all indications, will do little in this short session. There may be action on Boulder Dam and ratification of the Briand-Kellogg peace treaty, though even these are uncertain. There will have to be some appropriation bills. But far more important and various other important unfinished business left over from the last session will evidently be ignored. This is explained as policy, not intolerance or ineptitude. "The king is dead—long live the king." Congress looks to the new administration and awaits the word of President Hoover.

A school experimenter having found that stuttering children are "just as bright and capable" as others, the New York Times concludes that stuttering may in some cases be a positive advantage, as, for example, when it excuses a man from making a speech and thus results in "a real public benefit."

BURNS.

One of the commonest accidents about the house is a burn, and the proper treatment thereof may be a matter of life or death.

As you know, treatment has always aimed at keeping the air away from the burned surface, and so caron oil—equal parts of lime water and linseed oil—has been the standard remedy for years.

In severe burns the home treatment has been immersing the patient in a bath in which a few handfuls of baking soda or other alkali has been thrown.

However, the best available treatment is tannic acid, and now that it is being so generally used, reports on its effectiveness are interesting. I have spoken before about the results obtained in United States and Canadian hospitals, and now comes a report from Dr. W. C. Wilson from Great Britain. He had fifty cases treated with tannic acid and is most enthusiastic about it.

The tannic acid relieves the pain almost instantly; there is an absence of pain and discomfort while the dressing remains on the burned surface, and there is no necessity for the frequent "dressings" of other forms of treatment.

The poisoning which is such a serious factor is lessened and this greatly increases the chances of saving the patient's life, even in extensive burns. There is less "scarring" also from the use of tannic acid than by other methods.

I have spoken before about a Chinese physician who suggested the use of well-brewed tea where there was no tannic acid at hand.

Dr. Wilson suggests that in households, factories, offices, tannic acid should be kept at hand in powder form, about two level teaspoonsful of tannic acid in a packet.

This packet dissolved in a half a pint of water gives the solution that is now generally used.

This can be "painted" on, or allowed to flow over the burned surface. This is certainly a convenient method of having the tannic acid on hand.

ANNUAL SODA FOUNTAIN BILL IN AMERICA

Chicago, Dec. 13 (AP)—America, here is your annual soda fountain bill:
 Ice cream sodas $500,000,000
 Fountain lunches $200,000,000
 Confectionery $700,000,000
 Total $1,500,000,000
 That is the amount spent every year at the 100,000 soda fountains in this country, the annual convention of the industry was informed today by M. H. Kauer, representing a large fountain manufacturer. The fountain form a $200,000,000 investment, he said, bringing a daily return of $4,109,561.

Dec. 13, 1908.—Death of John Peters, Sr., at his home on Hooker street, aged 68 years.
 James Clark of Port Ewen injured when struck by a coaster coming down the West Chester street hill.

Dec. 13, 1918.—Captain George Jones of Lomontville reported killed in action on October 4.
 Private Jacob Sherman of East Union street reported wounded in action.
 Private Joseph A. Morris of Ashokan died of pneumonia at Camp Jackson, South Carolina.
 Word received that Private Austin Cullen of Hunter street had been wounded in action.
 Fire of unknown origin destroyed the big Steep Rock ice house and wiped out two small dwelling houses nearby in spectacular fire.

WHY

Cells Often "Run in the Family."

When colds "run in the family" it is no sign that the family is constitutionally subject to colds. It may be that some member of the family is acting as a carrier, just as some people are typhoid carriers, suggests Dr. P. Watson-Williams in a report to the practitioner of observations made on ninety consecutive patients. Sometimes one child is known for starting colds among his brothers and sisters. This same child may become immune to colds himself, but still harbor cold germs and be able to pass them on to others. If he grows up and has a family he may still be starting colds in the family, although they are no longer traced to him.

The reason for this may be an unsuspected infection of his nasal sinuses, the honeycomb structures back of the nose and eyes. This same infection may be the reason for some children growing a second set of adenoids when the first ones have been removed with the tonsils. Doctor Watson-Williams thinks.

Doctor Watson-Williams also reports a tendency for families that are prone to colds to have infections in the abdomen, for instance in appendix and gall bladder. The body cells that fight disease germs are weakened by resisting the germs always present in nose and throat and become an easy prey to those germs that find their way to the abdomen.—Kansas City Star's Science Service.

Why Paint Sometimes Refuses to "Stay Put"

Experiments and observations of the behavior of paint under varying conditions and circumstances indicate that paint does not really adhere to wood at least after the paint has dried out thoroughly, but hangs on chiefly by gaining mechanical grips in minute openings in the surface of the wood. Where there are plenty of openings the paint hangs on, but where the openings are too few, or too small, as in very dense wood, the paint does not hang on so well.

To understand how the grain of wood may affect paint retention it is only necessary to observe paint failure on woods having wide annual growth rings and in which there is a sharp contrast between spring wood and summer wood. In such woods the summer wood is much denser than the spring wood. Paint scales off more quickly than it does off the bands of spring wood.

Why Earth Is Changing.

Just as the tidal movement of the ocean is affected by the position of the sun and moon, so is the earth's surface influenced and there is constantly going on a heavy pronounced change in the contour of our globe. It is constantly rising and falling and while this movement is imperceptible except to scientific observers it is nevertheless quite pronounced and in the course of time is responsible for some very great changes. The pressure exerted on spots of the earth's crust by the rising tide of the ocean is another thing that makes it heave and fall. Atlantic tides have caused an observed earth bulge 800 miles away, and it is thought probable that this influence girdles the world.

By the very act, a man who argues with a woman admits himself wrong.

Why Known as "Dumbbells."

Why do we call the wooden exercise we swing "dumbbells"? Why dumb? Because exercise was a favorite pastime of the ancient Greeks, and the apparatus by which the heavy balls of a church are swung—a task which calls for considerable energy on the part of the swinger. This apparatus was used sometimes for the purpose of training bell-ringers, and it is probable that its use as an exercise was first suggested in this way. Later on, less cumbersome means of taking exercise were evolved, but "dumbbells" was still kept as the name.

Why Baptism Babies.

It is held by those churches which believe in the baptism of infants that the Old Testament covenant was applicable to all members of the family, from the youngest infant to the oldest man. They believe the New Testament covenant is equally to be applied and that baptism is the sign and seal of participation in this covenant. It is for this reason that most Christian churches baptize infants, at the same time requiring their parents to obligate themselves to bring the children up in the Christian faith.

Why Exercise Is "Royal."

The beauty of exercise caused it to be worn by royalty and King Edward III made it a punishable offense for any persons except those of royal birth to wear it. This restriction has long been removed, but the fur still enjoys royal favor.

Why Bodies Were Embalmed.

In ancient Egypt bodies were embalmed because it was believed that they would some day be restored to life.

Why "Capital" Punishment.

Hanging is called "capital" punishment from the Latin, caput, the head. Beheading was once the usual death penalty.

Mythological Term.

In Norse mythology the expression "twilight of the gods" refers to the final destruction of the world and the regeneration of gods and men.

Brings New Health To This Well Known Linderman Avenue Man

Stomach Distress; Gastritis; Nervousness; and Constipation all Relieved by Nu-Erb He Declares.

It is only a few weeks ago that Nu-Erb was entirely unknown in Kingston, but due to the real merit of this great herbal-medicine it has sprung into almost instant popularity and scores of local men and women are coming daily to McBride's Drug Store, 312 Wall Street, telling of the wonderful good to be obtained through the use of Nu-Erb. Among them is Mr. Asaph Shurtler, 12 Linderman Avenue, Kingston, N. Y., who relates the following enthusiastic story:

"My stomach was bothering me terribly with gas forming after meals. This gas would crowd against my heart causing severe distress and shortness of breath. I would get frequent attacks of heartburn from which I could get no relief. I had a poor appetite, was so nervous that I could not sleep at night and my bowels would not move without the constant aid of laxatives."

"I read of Nu-Erb helping so many others that I decided to try it for myself and was soon surprised to find it helping my stomach and bowels. Now that I have used three bottles I can honestly say that it has relieved the indigestion and other distress in my stomach so that I scarcely have any trouble that way. My appetite is 100% better. My nerves are stronger. I sleep soundly at night and my bowels are acting normally every day. I will cheerfully recommend this medicine to others."

ACTIVITIES AT NEW PALITZ NORMAL SCHOOL

Saturday night the annual Inter-School Dance was held in the school gymnasium. Decorations for the dance, which was formal, were put on by the Luckey Platt and Company of Poughkeepsie.

Wednesday morning of last week in chapel at the Normal the students were honored by having two distinguished visitors. They were Dr. Brubacher, president of the State Teachers' College at Albany, and Professor John A. Sayles who is director of training at the same institution. Dr. Brubacher was introduced to the student body by Dr. Lawrence H. Van den Berg, principal of the Normal. The two principals were traveling companions last spring when they toured Europe on an inspection of the various school systems on that continent.

Dr. Brubacher, in his talk, traced the changes in the methods and outcomes of education from the days when he was a student in a one-room country schoolhouse up to the present time. He stressed the important part machinery and electricity play in the industrial world today, displacing the man power demanded in other years and thus shortening the hours of labor. He quoted the late Dr. Steinmetz, former electrical wizard, as saying that in a few more years the industrial day will be only four hours in length. Dr. Brubacher then brought forth the fact that the immediate and future problem of educators and teachers, a problem that is constantly increasing in importance and attracting more and more attention, is the preparation of pupils for the leisure time. They should be taught to employ themselves in this leisure time in an ethical, healthy and moral manner. Thus this change in educational outcomes is changing our methods of education in order that these newly stressed outcomes may be secured.

LEGAL TO SELL CONCENTRATED GRAPES WITH INSTRUCTIONS

It is not illegal under the Volstead Act to make wine in the home or to sell concentrated grapes with instructions for making wine from them at home, according to a verdict rendered in the U. S. District Court for the Western District of New York, Judge Simon L. Adler presiding. This verdict, the first to determine definitely one of the most important points in the National Prohibition Law, clears the Virginia Dare Vineyards, Inc., Penn Yan, N. Y., of the charge of violating Sections 29 and 35 of the Volstead Act.

The Government complained, and the defendants admitted, that they had sold concentrated grapes prepared from grapes grown by them and had furnished instructions for making wine in the home. Government witnesses proved that following these instructions had resulted in a real, full-flavored wine.

The defense, in admitting the allegations, maintained that Section 29 of the Volstead Act specifically permits the making of wine in the home and that therefore the sale of concentrated grapes and the furnishing of instructions was for the legal manufacture of wine and therefore not in violation of the law.

The whole of the Bible was placed in evidence by the defense.

DIDN'T LOOK LIKE AN OFFICER, BUT HE WAS

Keeseville, N. Y., Dec. 12 (AP).—Sergeant L. L. LeVasseur of the New York State Troopers, stationed here, doesn't look like a policeman when he wears civilian clothes. Four men have learned this fact to their sorrow.

A few weeks ago, the sergeant found a stalled car on the road to Gouverneur and helped the two occupants to push it up a hill. Desiring to compensate the good Samaritan for his assistance, the two men offered him a drink. The sergeant promptly placed them under arrest and searched their car, finding two cases of liquor.

Just a few days ago, Sergeant LeVasseur was driving his car near Clayton and met a man who asked for a lift. The hitch-hiker gave his name as Frank Larkin of Fine View. During the ride, LeVasseur later reported, Larkin informed him that he was "hard boiled" and a big boot-legger; that the federal officers were "fixed" and that if any troopers bothered him, he would hit them over the head with a bottle.

"I'm a tough guy and come pretty near doing what I like," he declared, according to the sergeant.

LeVasseur told the hitch-hiker that he also was in the business and eventually the two made an appointment to meet later in the evening at Fisher's Landing, near Clayton.

The sergeant was first at the meeting place and Larkin arrived a few minutes later. Assured that the coast was clear, Larkin led the sergeant down to the lake shore, and to a motorboat anchored. LeVasseur said: "The pilot, who later gave his name as Charles Lafleur, tossed out three and one-half cases of liquor and came ashore, according to the sergeant's report."

Sergeant LeVasseur disclosed his identity and placed the two men under arrest.

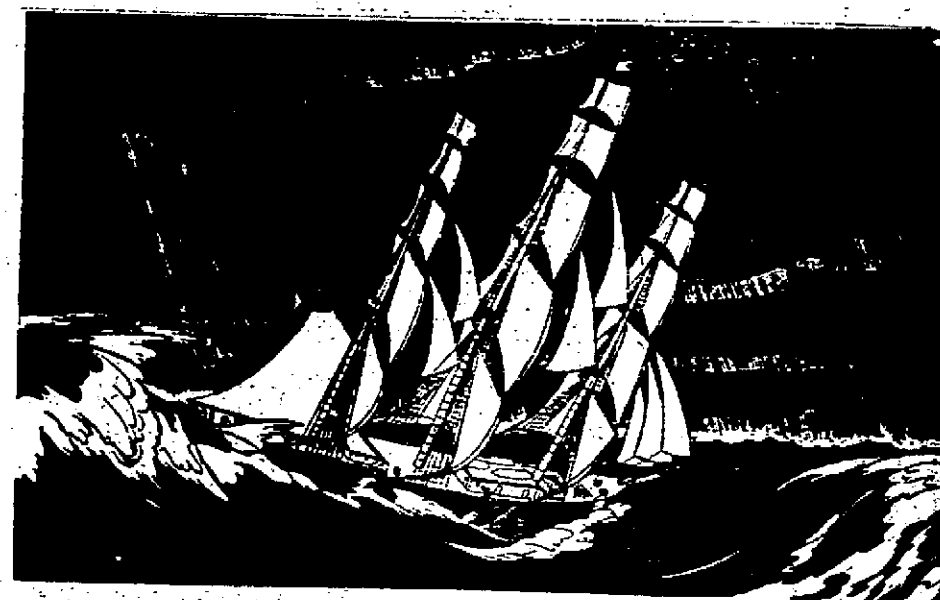

"I don't think you're hitting many troopers over the head with a bottle," the sergeant remarked as he turned his prisoners over to federal officers at the nearby customs office.

A New Reo Flying Cloud The Mate

Racing for port, slim nose in the smother while the rival merchantmen hove to and rode out the storm—flashing down the Roaring Forties to make one glamorous record after another on the stubborn trip around the Horn... what made the "Flying Cloud" the darling of the nation in the good old clipper days? — Craftsmanship!... Every inch of her tuned to its purpose. Every quality so balanced as to make a perfect whole. The last inch of canvas—that could be safely carried. The final foot of cargo space—that didn't cut down speed. No wonder—like to like—she gathered to herself the cleverest Master and the staunchest Mate who owed allegiance to the Stars and Stripes. — Today, our field of action shifts to landward. Our cars crowd roads around the world as once our clippers filled the glittering lanes at sea. But balanced craftsmanship still turns the trick—so much of this, so much of that, no more—and so the Reo Flying Cloud sails on. — Speed—much more than you'll ever need. — Quick pick-up and such 4-wheel brakes as bring her up all-standing. A wheel that answers to a finger's touch. Dependability that hugs the road no matter how you let her out. A power that rides the hills as once the elder "Flying Cloud" rode equinoctial gales. More space—an extra-wide rear seat, a front seat with those unexpected inches that make an added passenger a pleasure, not a temper test. Beauty, of course—a sleekness and a grace inseparable from perfect balance of design. — From this day forward—here's the cheering news—there's not a single Flying Cloud—but two. The Master is the bigger car. The Mate is next in line. Every quality that distinguishes the first goes also for the second—except size... and price...

YEGG WHO GOT $250,000 NOW OLD AND PENNILESS

Nearly Half His Life Spent in Prisons Throughout Country.

New York.—George (Humpty) Williams, a twisted, disfigured old man of sixty-four, for 45 years has been known as one of the most resourceful and successful of the rapidly vanishing old-time "yeggmen."

Recently after being in the Tombs for some time awaiting trial on a charge of complicity in a $25,000 robbery in 1919, he was released by Judge Allen in General Sessions. Two officers of the Volunteers of America promised to feed him and see to it that he sticks to his announced intention of "going straight."

Half of Life in Prison. The reason he had not been tried earlier on this charge was that he was in Charlestown prison, Charlestown, Mass., serving an eight-year term for a burglary committed there after the one here. He had been at-rained here in 1919 and was out on $2,000 bail when arrested in Charlestown.

His life has been like that. Nearly half of it has been spent in prisons in various parts of the country, and although he estimates his own deprivations must have totaled $250,000, he is penniless today—an object of charity.

"Humpty" Williams—a lump in his spine gave him the name—was introduced to crime by a man named Joseph Carter, one of the most dangerous criminals of the nineties.

Defiant to Police. Young Williams, well educated and of refined tastes, felt that the chronic Pott's disease which afflicted his spine was a cruel trick of fate, and in his condition of resentment against the world in general he readily fell in with the schemes Carter proposed to him.

His first arrest was in 1896. From that time on he engaged in nothing but criminal pursuits. Safe cracking was his specialty, and he was an acknowledged master at it.

He was always defiant of police authority and frequently gave burglary as his occupation.

But now he admits meekly that the life of crime is no good. All the bitter pride has gone from his bearing. His lawyer, Leroy Campbell of the Voluntary Defenders' league, asked that the charge against Williams be dropped.

The judge and the district attorney agreed, and "Humpty" Williams, envy of all the "yeggmen" of the old days, walked out of court, to be cared for by charity.

Site of Mount Sinai

Sought by Expedition. Copenhagen, Denmark.—An expedition which hopes to locate the site of Mount Sinai in northern Arabia will leave London in February under the leadership of Dr. Ditlef Nielsen, Danish archaeologist.

Doctor Nielsen holds that the supposed site of the mount on Sinai peninsula is wrong.

He says that knowledge of old Arabic culture recently coming to light, especially from thousands of inscriptions on monuments, proves that there was a fundamental connection between the Jewish religion and the western and northern Arabian coast.

The northern part of this region, south of the Dead sea, as far as the Bay of Akaba, is unexplored for cultural inscriptions, and here the expedition expects to concentrate its research.

Duck Dances Light

Williston, N. D.—A duck flew into the high power line of the Montana Dakota Power company between Ray and Toga recently, causing damage that deprived several towns of electrical power until crews from Williston and Toga located and repaired the damage. The duck, partly roasted and quite dead, was brought to Williston.

The annual drive for memberships for the Elting Memorial Library will be held this month. The membership dues are one dollar a year, and each year solicitors call on the homes in the village asking the people to join the association. Our library is a fine institution supported by money raised locally, and it is not necessary that one belong to the association in order to draw books. However, one way of helping to support the library is by the payment of one dollar a year dues. The books have been greatly increased this year and the circulation larger. This shows that more are deriving the benefit from the library.

Park and Oates have had a very busy season. They have lately been installing a bathroom in the residence of Raymond DuBois at Forest Glen, a bath room in Harry Krom's house, St. Remy, a bath room in Mrs. Wagner's house at Fillson, and a bath room in Thomas Elliott's house. They have just completed a plumbing job in the house on the Low Brick Company property and they are at present changing the heating and plumbing in the new houses of Miss Emma Litta and C. C. Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Ballard motored to Saugerties one day last week. In nothing is the immense change since the war more apparent than in social standards. This year the Study Club is considering modern problems, as dealt with in the drama. At the meeting on Tuesday the dramatist was Maeterlinck, Miss Margaret Fletcher read a paper on "The Blue Bird," which however is not about social problems but treats cheerfully, if mystically of childhood and happiness. In a discussion of Pellaea and Mellande, and triangles in general, Miss Gertrude C. LeFevre made an attempt, in the words of the colored preacher to "onscrew the onscutable." Current events for the fortnight as discussed by Miss Helen Hasbrouck included the illness of King George, the opening of Congress and Hoover's trip to South America.

Lloyd Smith is in the City of Kingston Hospital having had an operation for appendicitis.

ELEANOR GUNN
ON FASHIONSFLOUNCES ARE AN EXPRESSION OF THE SMART WOMAN'S DRESS DESIRES

New York—Premet is scoring with her afternoon gowns of moire. They strike just the necessary note of formality to conform with present dress standards.

This seems to be the consensus of Parisian opinion and is rapidly becoming truth to us in America. Chanel's printed chiffon evening frocks, another arresting feature of the late openings, are becoming of more interest as the time approaches for fashionable to migrate. One has a natural feeling for diaphanous frocks for southern parties, although inclining toward other fabrics, not accepting velvets, by way of variety.

A supplementary jacket of self fabric, the printed chiffon evening frock, being under discussion, is a charming feature approved by Jenny as well as Chanel. These jackets are swathed rather tightly about the hips, blouse ing a bit above, and are calculated to contribute to the movement of the frock animated by reason of its billowing and indefinite outlines.

In one of the Jenny interpretations of this coat and dance frock idea, the skirt is flounced and the jacket follows its lead by ending in a narrower dounce, both of them pleated, which when the jacket is adjusted produces a tiered effect. Flounces and tucks have both scored heavily this season. Tucks have developed as a coat decoration, while flounces refuse to confine themselves to the day's end, and show no hesitancy in appearing at luncheon time. The circular flounces wider at one side than the other or higher at the back than front have been welcomed as a means for breaking the horizontal line so fatal to the average figure.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

An Essential Undergarment. 6312. This attractive Stepin Chemise was developed in flesh color crepe de chine, with trimming of flit lace. It is also attractive in plain or striped batiste, in voile or pongee. Black georgette with black Alencon lace, is very smart. Pink radium silk with beige color lace would be very new and pretty. Pleasant fulness at the side front seams create desirable fulness. The underarm seams are open below the hips. The pattern for this desirable style is cut in 4 sizes: Small, 34-36; medium, 36-40; large, 42-44; extra large, 46-48 inches bust measure. To make this garment for a medium size will require 2½ yards of 22 inch material and 1 yard of ribbon for the shoulder straps. To trim as illustrated requires 5 yards of lace edging. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

MISSIONARY FROM SYRIA AT NEW ERA LEAGUE MEETING

The New Era League of the First Presbyterian Church met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Graham, the president, presiding. There was a large attendance of members and visitors. The Roundout Presbyterian Missionary Society were invited especially to hear and enjoy a talk given by Mrs. Hoskins, a missionary from Syria.

Mrs. Donald Leith led the devotional meeting, which was followed with a solo by Mrs. Kiefer, "Open the Gates of the Temple," which every one enjoyed very much.

A short business meeting followed with brief reports from the various chairmen.

Mrs. Graham now asked Mrs. Cady to introduce the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Franklin Hoskins, of Syria, who is directress of the Hamlin Memorial Sanatorium in that far distant land.

She opened her talk with the beautiful Arabic salutation, "Peace be with you." She told how her children had been writing for her to come home and make them a visit, and how as she did not come her son finally came out to Syria, with his bride, to make her a visit. And now she was here for a short visit with her children and making only a few talks during the time in this country.

She said she had lived through three massacres. One when she was a small child of two or three years old. She had also lived under the British and the French rule.

Telling of the sanatorium, situated on a mountain and is approached through the Lebanon Woods.

The doctor in charge was born in Nazareth, and on the staff are Moslems and Armenians all working in harmony.

The sanatorium is for the purpose of treating tubercular patients and at the present time there are seventy-seven, not one being an old person. She also told about the Near East Relief work, which will end all too soon, as there are still many orphans not old enough to shift for themselves. They have been taught many things to make them self-supporting, such as making furniture, silver chains and many other things.

The boys can look after themselves, but in a Moslem country the girls cannot do so. Around Beirut there are still about 6,000 orphans to be cared for.

Mrs. Hoskins said she had been a missionary fifty-two years. She has been told she speaks Arabic better than the natives themselves. She closed her talk with the Lord's prayer in Arabic.

Newburgh Praises City Decorations

The Newburgh News of Tuesday under the heading "Kingston Preparing for Holiday Season" has this to say regarding the enterprise of Kingston's business men in the holiday decorations and street illuminations. Motorists who pass through Kingston after nightfall praise the manner in which the merchants are expending their money in the street decorations for the holiday season. Large evergreen trees with a multiplicity of electric lights are placed at equal distances through the business sections, with small evergreens, also electrically lighted, at each electric light pole between the one sustaining the principal adornments.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified cod liver oil, in pleasant taste. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membrane and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, creomulsion is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to cod liver oil, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation, while the cod liver oil goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, reaches the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germ. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

"Clarence" at K. H. S. Friday

Friday evening, December 14, the Kingston High School Athletic Association will present its annual play at the school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock. The comedy "Clarence" which is to be presented was written by Booth Tarkington. The play is being produced by special arrangement with Samuel French of New York city, where it has had a very successful run.

Under the direction of Miss Ann Byrne the amateur actors and actresses have developed into fine characters and they have shown remarkable talent. Several critics have pronounced the play a sensational hit.

Reserved seats may be secured at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday and Friday.

CHRISTMAS PARTY AT CROSSPATCH CENTER, DEC. 22.

Crosspatch Community Center will hold its annual Christmas party a little early this year, the date being Saturday evening, December 22.

However a Saturday evening party is always popular in the country and Crosspatch hopes that all its wide circle of friends and neighbors and especially all the children will come and have a real old-fashioned Christmas party.

Crosspatch is one of the few places in the country where the real old time Christmas celebration is held, just as it might have been fifty years ago in the time of our grandfathers.

There will be a very large and beautiful tree, carefully selected by Harvey Ostrander, and, whisper, it will have a brand new set of the loveliest decorations so it will sparkle from top to bottom.

Santa Claus has a special engagement to be at Crosspatch, Saturday evening, the 22nd. He has a novelty in a new kind of candy box—holds lot of candy, caramels chocolates and clear candy—his pack is filled with dolls and other presents.

At Crosspatch there is a filled stocking, a box of candy and a present from Santa Claus' pack for everyone who comes. Of course we think of the children first, but it has long been a custom at Crosspatch to treat the whole crowd as children—and they all seem to enjoy it.

Then there will be the big doll, which goes to the person drawing the lucky number. She's a lovely big doll this year, with bobbed curly hair, opens and closes her eyes too. She is dressed in a dainty mull frock. There's always lots of excitement as to who will get the doll, and the lucky person this year will have as pretty doll as Mrs. Cross could find in New York.

Dancing all the fine old square dances is a part of the entertainment. It isn't only the young people who dance at the Christmas party. Everybody, young and old dances for there's a specially joyous air about this party and no one can keep out of it.

Lots of pennies have been saved up for the children, so they can scramble for them—for no matter how many presents Santa Claus brings, a few pennies are always welcome for some secret wish that every child has.

Crosspatch will be beautifully decorated with Christmas greens and festoons of bright color. The old-fashioned raftered ceiling and the big stone fire-place lend themselves to holiday decoration very well.

This will be the ninth annual Christmas celebration at Crosspatch. Everybody, from grandpa to the latest baby are invited and indeed expected. It is the yearly festival of good will. No admission is ever charged at the parties and there's no expense of any kind for the guests. It is however understood that everyone who comes is at peace with all his neighbors and ready to enjoy the holiday spirit.

Last year there were over two guests at the Crosspatch Christmas party, some of them from Kingston. It is hoped there will be as many this year. Crosspatch is a little off the state road, which ends at Willow, but the road is good and the place is easily reached. Everyone roots for good weather for the Christmas party. Mrs. Evelyn Cross, the founder and manager of Crosspatch Community Center, will come from New York in time to get ready for the party and looks forward to greeting old friends and new friends on that occasion.

Labor and Thought

It is only by labor that thought can be made healthy, and only by that thought that labor can be made happy; and the two cannot be separated with impunity.—Ruskin.

KYSERIKE

Kyserike, Dec. 12—All were sorry to hear Mr. and Mrs. Traphagen's children have whooping cough. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hart and family spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Osterhout. Mrs. Osterhout entertained her brother and family Sunday, also William Jackson and friend, from Wawarsing.

All extend sympathy for little Raymond Osterhout, who had the misfortune to fall and dislocate his arm. He is being attended by Dr. Fuller and improving as much as can be expected.

Sorry to hear Miss Rosella Stephens is not getting along so well with the whooping cough. An oyster supper will be held in I. O. O. F. Hall, Accord, December 15. Dancing will follow.

Girl And Boy Singers Seek Radio Fame

Ten amateur singers, representing every section of the country, will participate in the second National Radio Audition finals to be broadcast from WEAF and a coast to coast chain Sunday evening, December 16. Each will receive an award, graded according to the decision of a national board of judges.

New York (P).—Fame via the radio is being sought by ten amateur singers—five boys and five girls.

The ten are the finalists of the second National Radio Audition, and on Sunday evening, December 16, they will sing from the studios of WEAF over a coast to coast chain of broadcasting stations to determine which is the best. Their program will open at 9:15 o'clock eastern standard time.

The boys and girls come from every section of the country and are the winners of five district auditions. They have won in successive elimination contests in local, state and district auditions, in which 60,000 singers participated.

The representatives of the various districts are:

Eastern—Hazel C. Arth, contralto, Washington, D. C., and Kenneth D. Hines, tenor, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mid-West—Gladys Morrison Ball, coloratura soprano, Kansas City, Mo., and Wilfred Engelman, baritone, Detroit, Mich.

Dixie—Carmel Rosell, soprano, New Orleans, La., and Ernest P. Ferrata, baritone, New Orleans, La.

Southwest—Anna M. Chandler, coloratura soprano, Fayetteville, Ark., and Patrick Henry Wilson, baritone, Galveston, Tex.

Far-West—Irene Kilgore, coloratura soprano, Oakland, Calif., and Donald Novis, tenor, Pasadena, Calif.

Awards of $17,500 will be divided among the singers by a board of nationally known judges. The announcement of the winners will be made immediately after the contest, each boy and girl placing first to receive $5,000, a gold decoration and a two-year scholarship at a leading American conservatory. Second place winners, a boy and a girl, will receive $2,000 each and a year's scholarship; third place winners, $1,000 each and a year's scholarship; fourth place winners, $500 each, and fifth place, $250 each.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception Wednesday evening was good with the exception of a short period of something that sounded like static but probably was not, at about 8 o'clock. The half-hour hour was especially good.

A glimpse of Cape Cod, drawn from the well-known stories of Joseph C. Lincoln, will be offered as the Soconyland Sketch to be broadcast Tuesday evening at 7:30. This program, which is the first radio presentation of Mr. Lincoln's characters, is made possible by special permission of the author and his publishers, D. Appleton and Company. The incidents constituting the sketch have been selected from Mr. Lincoln's novel "Mary Gusta," published in 1916, and recognized as one of the best of his many popular Cape Cod tales. Mary Gusta herself and the two mellow and benevolent old captains, Shadrack Gould and Zoeth Hamilton, who will live again on Tuesday night, are old favorites among the author's broad array of characters.

Plays Knight Too Well, Spends Night in Jail

Washington.—Because Frederick Brown saw a young woman struggling in front of a store with a man and hastened to the young woman's rescue, he spent the night in jail. After he told his story in court, he was freed.

When Brown interfered he did not know that the woman, accompanied by another, had just a few minutes earlier walked out of the store with five suits of clothes they neglected to pay for. The manager accused Brown of being an accomplice of the two women who escaped.

Wife "Raisée" Husband

Wires are able to supervise the raising of their own husbands in China, according to Capper's Weekly. It is not uncommon, says the paper, for a Chinese boy of twelve to be married to a woman of twenty or twenty-five. Usually she is selected by the bridegroom's mother, who then uses her daughter-in-law for a household assistant. If her husband's mother dies, the wife then assists her father-in-law in bringing up the boy in a way that will turn him into a model husband.

Returns to Wife

Awaiting Divorce

Raymond, N. J.—Declaring he hasn't had a peaceful minute in the last 14 years, Harold W. Weaver of this city is asking for a divorce from Mrs. Beatrice J. Weaver.

When Harold left his attorney's office, the lawyer wanted to know where he was going. "Oh, back home," Harold replied wearily. "You see, Beatrice wouldn't like it if I stayed away, at least until the decree goes through."

WAR HERO LIKES COMFORTABLE CELL

Succeeds in His Fifth Attempt to Get In.

Shanghai.—George H. Brewster, British subject, war hero and Shanghai beachcomber, is a man who likes his comfortable cell in the Shanghai jail. George says so himself. He's in jail now and will be there for some time to come, all of which makes him quite contented.

Five times did George essay to break into the local jail and five times did a British judge refuse to send him there, because of the man's remarkable war record.

On the occasion of his fourth appearance before the British court George pleaded to be sent to jail. He argued that he was unemployed and hungry; that in prison he had no work to do and got three good meals per day and a place to sleep.

The judge shook his head and told George to go and sin no more.

The next day George armed himself with a number of rocks. On busy Nanking road he amused himself by hurling rocks through display windows.

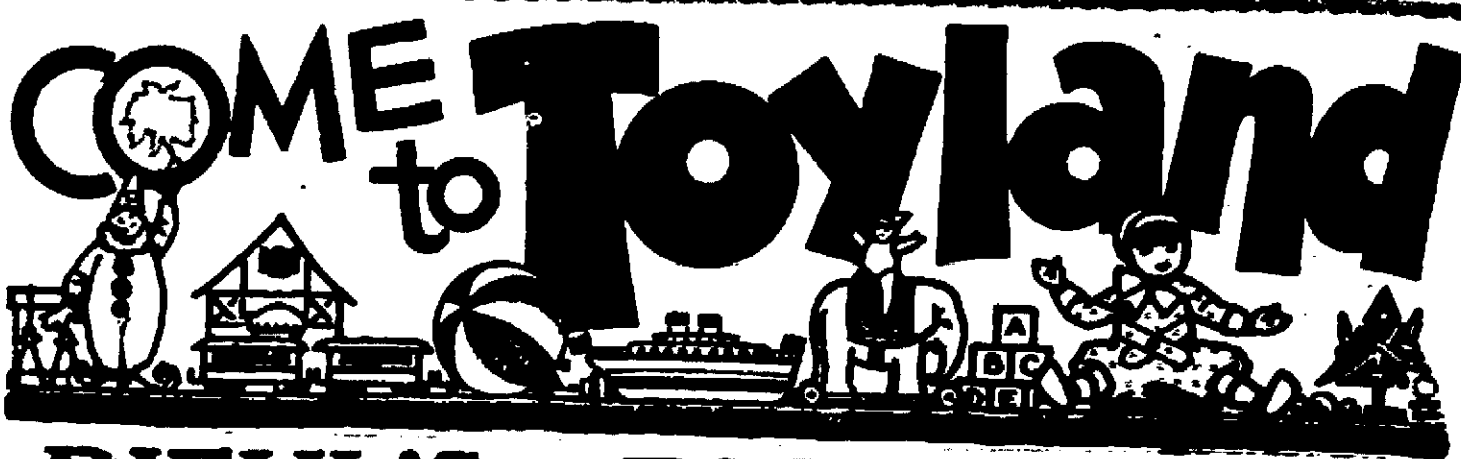

George was arrested.

He pleaded guilty in court and asked for a jail term. The judge was obliging. Three months for George.

"Thank you, sir," was George's comment.

Kills Self, Leaving $400,000 to Family

New Orleans, La.—Although E. C. Cornish, wealthy Southern banker, left two farewell notes to his wife in the hotel room in which his body was found, New Orleans authorities were without a definite reason for the suicide.

One of the notes asserted that "a few years added to or subtracted from eternity make no difference," and another declared he was leaving an estate of about $370,000 to his widow and $38,000 to his daughter, and urged them to invest the money wisely.

Cornish, who shot himself to death, was president of the First American Bank and Trust company of West Palm Beach, Fla., which was closed in June.

Notes From Crusades
The town and fortress of Peterwardein, Yugo-Slavia, was once a Roman fort. The present name means "fortress of Peter." The soldiers for the first Crusades were collected there by Peter the Hermit. The name was given to the place because of this circumstance.

Nature's Wise Provision.

Though November is proverbially the gloomiest month in the year, it is conspicuously rich in beef, mutton, real, pork, and house-lamb, as well as in fish, poultry, game and wild fowl. Thus, by an admirable provision in the economy of nature, at the season when the human appetite is increasing in strength, the means of gratifying it are multiplied.—William Hone.

Sportsmen's Ball A Big Success

The first annual ball of the Sportsmen's Association of Rosendale was held Wednesday evening in Firemen's Hall in that village and over three hundred people, many of whom were from this city, attended. The ball proved not only a success financially but a big success socially. In fact so successful was it that the committee in charge has been selected to hold another ball in the near future. It is likely that the association will vote to hold another ball some time in January.

Vigilant Law Officer Had Seen 'Em Doing It

Speeding across the country from Los Angeles to New York by motor, two motion-picture celebrities were held up by the constable in a small town and, as usual, the officer had all the advantage on his side. He refused to give them a ticket and finally compromised by taking them directly before the judge.

The constable was very hot under the collar and declared he would make it hot for them, but the couple were hardly prepared for the outraged officer's charge in court.

"Your honor," he announced pompously, "this is a couple of motion-picture people and the charge I'm preferring against them is arson."

"Arson!" roared one of the accused. "What do you mean? We were never out of our car till you flagged us!"

"You was burnin' up the road, an' I'm preferin' the charge of arson against you," insisted the constable, and even the court had to laugh as he let them off with a five dollar fine.

Historians Unable to Place Queen of Sheba

The nationality of the queen of Sheba, mentioned in the Bible in connection with a visit to King Solomon, is unknown for certain. It is supposed, however, that "Sheba" is merely a variation of the word "Saba," which was the name of a country on the Red sea in southwestern Arabia. This region is now known as Yemen. The Sabaeans were dark-complexioned white people and belonged to the same general family of mankind as the Hebrews. They had extensive colonies in Africa, where they mingled with the Ethiopians, with whom they are sometimes confused. The Abyssinians have a tradition that the queen of Sheba who visited Solomon was a monarch of their country and their royal family claims descent from Menekel, an alleged son of the queen of Sheba by King Solomon. The queen who made herself famous by her spectacular visit to King Solomon was very likely the same person known in history as Queen Balkis of the Sabaeans.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Senate Passes Postoffice Bill

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP).—The billion dollar treasury-post office appropriation bill was passed today by the Senate, carrying additions of $3,000,000 over the amount voted by the House.

At the annual meeting of the examining board of plumbers held at the Central Fire Station on Wednesday evening, Frank A. Myers of Henry street was elected president; C. Lester Legg was elected treasurer; and Charles H. Gregory, secretary of the board.

Playwright Missing.

Shanghai, Dec. 13 (AP).—Eugene O'Neill, American dramatist who has been suffering from a slight nervous breakdown and bronchitis, left his sick bed on Tuesday and his whereabouts were a mystery today. Dr.

Alexander Reaner, an Austrian nerve specialist, had repeatedly stated that the playwright was rapidly recovering and had expected to leave his bed in the hotel where he had been undergoing treatment in a few days, but his leaving the hotel on Tuesday was not expected.

Artificial "Snow."
Once a novelty, "chemical snow" is now manufactured by the ton instead of by the ounce. It is increasingly used for refrigeration, for under certain conditions this substance is said to be 15 times as efficient as water ice. Ice cream, now shipped from New York to Cuba, weighs only one-third as much as it would if packed with ice.

and Commercial

New York, Dec. 13 (AP).—Speculation in stocks quieted down considerably in today's market, which was featured by the strength of the non-dividend paying rails. Wide fluctuations continued in some of the high-priced industrials and specialties but the general undertone was firm.

There was no change in the credit situation. Call money again renewed at 1/2 per cent with funds so plentiful that the rate was lowered to 7/8. Additional shipments of gold from Canada brought the total on the current movement to $15,000,000.

Many traders showed a disposition to stay out of the market until after the publication of the weekly Federal Reserve Bank's Loan statement, which is expected to show a substantial reduction in borrowings in view of the sharp reaction in prices last week.

Revival of speculative activity in the rails was influenced, to some extent, by reports of increasing freight car traffic and the prospect of dividend payments on a few issues. Brokers generally do not look for any broad movement in the rails until after the St. Louis and St. Paul decision, involving the railroad valuation and the right of the government to share in excess earnings, is handed down by the United States Supreme court.

Chicago Great Western issues advanced to new 1928 high levels, and Chicago and Alton issues, Erie Common, Western Maryland Common and Second Preferred and Pennsylvania were among the many issues to sell to 4 1/2 points higher.

Bull broke 19 points in the early trading but recovered all its loss by early afternoon. Packard Motors converted an early loss of nearly 6 points into a gain of 4. Wright Aeronautical, A. M. Byers, Motor Products and several others rallied 5 or more points above their low prices of the morning.

One disquieting development was the drop in General Motors below the low price of last week. Burroughs Adding Machine, which scored 16 points yesterday, moved up 8 more today to a new high record at 220. International Nickel, Greene Cananea Copper, National Tea and Brockway Motors all sold 5 to 8 points above yesterday's closing levels.

POULTRY

EARLIER HATCHED CHICKS FAVORED

Good Business to Have Good Laying Flock in Summer.

By hatching a part of the poultry flock between January 15 and February 15, so that the birds will mature in July, the poultryman takes a big step toward maintaining his late summer and early fall production, advises R. R. Maass, poultry research specialist, in the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station.

Mr. Maass points out that the price of eggs begins to climb as the summer wanes and that it is good business to have a flock of layers at this time. Ordinarily a decline in production takes place with the old fowls about July. If one-quarter to one-third of the flock is hatched between the middle of January and the middle of February the poultry keeper can offset this decrease.

The article goes on to say that brooding of chicks early in the season has been carried on successfully for a number of years. Chicks thus produced will reach a good growth and development before hot weather comes on, thereby giving them an advantage over later hatched stock. One precaution, to prevent leg weakness, is advised. Because bad weather is likely to make it unsafe to let the chicks out on the ground and there is a lack of green food at this time, cod liver oil and sprouted oats should be supplied. The oil is given at the rate of 2 per cent either of the amount of grain or of the amount of mash fed. Experience has shown that it is easier to mix it into the grain, and that however used, it is highly effective in preventing leg weakness.

The writer concludes with the suggestion that the earlier hatching enables the general farmer to get this phase of his work out of the way before the heavy rush of spring arrives.

Crowded Conditions in Many Poultry Houses

A recent survey of a number of farms shows crowded conditions in the poultry houses. Many of these houses are almost wholly lacking in ventilation.

At night when one of these buildings is crowded with chickens the air is not fit to breathe. A human being will not remain long in such a place. If he did remain throughout the night, he would be "all in" by morning. And this is just the trouble with a lot of chickens now.

The chickens are badly crowded at night in a poorly-ventilated house. They are forced to breathe bad air. They become too warm. They are "all in" in the morning, and emerging into the cool outside air is a sudden change that many of them cannot withstand.

These crowded conditions at night and sudden changes from warm to cool air are responsible for many of our poultry ills. Giving the chickens medicine will not do any permanent good, so long as the cause of the trouble remains unchanged. Either additional room should be provided or the size of the flock reduced.

Crooked Breast Bones Found in Chickens

Crooked breast bones may be caused by inbreeding and general debility, or may come from improper food and feeding, or poor management of some kind, writes Michael K. Boyer in the Farm and Ranch. There is no question about heredity being the fault, at least to a certain extent. That being the fact, it should be bred out, which might be done by the selection of only straight breast-bone fowls for the breeding pen.

Lack of bone-making material in the feed of growing stock, which is the prime cause of leg weakness, has also the effect of producing crooked breast bones in young chickens. There used to be a theory, which by many still is believed, that very early roosting of growing birds causes the soft breast bones to bend. This might be so in some instances, but does not hold good with the general run of stock.

Buying Pullets

Buying pullets by weight may be more satisfactory than buying entirely by age. April hatched pullets on insufficient rations may be of less value than May hatched pullets which have been properly fed and brooded. A May 1 pullet is much better than a May 30 pullet if the conditions have been equal. The later hatched chick has missed four fine weeks for the development of poultry meat, but the name of the month is not fully descriptive of quality.

Culling Farm Flock

There are two essentials in culling farm poultry. First, to get rid of hens that are not laying, and second, to distinguish between the hens that have been good producers and those that have not laid enough to pay for their feed. Culling should start in late May or June and continue throughout the year at regular intervals. Eliminating the hens as they become unprofitable saves feed and labor and improves the conditions for those that are laying.

Attaining Happiness.
Happiness is not to be satisfied, but comes with an appearance of Sadness, to be jugged with off-hand. It comes to be some kind of balance, as in taking a bicycle, attempted painfully a thousand times, and achieved at last without effort.—Elizabeth Bowen.

Planet Hoovers Named

Vienne.—The election of Herbert Hoover as President of the United States has recalled to many American star gazers that a planet discovered in March, 1920, was named "Hooveria" in recognition of his relief work.

The planet, an asteroid between Jupiter and Mars, was discovered by Prof. Johann Palisa, and its name was adopted by unanimous vote of the senate of Vienna university.

Plan Program to Combat the Flu

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP).—A program designed to combat influenza, prevalent in many sections of the country, was awaited today from a "board of strategy" appointed by Surgeon General Cummings.

The first three members, bacteriologists of the public health service, Dr. G. W. McCoy, Dr. W. H. Frost, and Dr. J. P. Leake, already have been in conference on the situation.

Public health service officials have said that the disease apparently is not as widespread nor as virulent in character as the outbreaks of 1918 and 1920, but they refused to make any predictions as to the probable course of the malady. That, it was stated, would depend largely on the death rate.

That has shown an increase lately, as has the general death rate in the United States. Information submitted to the Bureau of Census showed 183 deaths in 77 cities for the week ended December 3, as compared to 43 deaths in the same cities during the week ended November 3.

Health service officials believe there are more than 200,000 cases of influenza in the country at present, 40,510 having been reported in 29 states, New York city and the District of Columbia.

Duty.
Robert E. Lee wrote in a letter to his son, that "duty is the sublime word in the English language." To do one's duty as one sees it is the secret of thoughtful and successful living. It sounds simple and is simple—but it is extremely difficult. Mistakenly we seek rest and comfort by shirking duty. Strange that we find it so hard to learn that the path of duty is the way to rest.—Grover Patterson in the Mobile Register.

Hassard United With His Mother

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 13 (AP).—Kendall Bradley Hassard, Syracuse University junior, missing since December 4, was united with his mother, Mrs. Beulah J. (Hassard) Sica of Albany, here today.

The meeting took place in the Columbus Dispatch building to which Mrs. Sica had gone as soon as she arrived here early today from Albany. Her son, placed in a hotel over night by a private detective to whom he had gone for help in finding out his own identity, recognized his mother at once. He walked haltingly across the room to where she was quietly sitting, snatched out "Mother" and then fell to his knees at her feet.

As soon as the reunion had taken place, a change occurred in his mental consciousness. Yesterday he could recall in detail all his movements of the past few days on his way from Pittsburgh to Wheeling and then here although unable to tell about his actions on the day he left Syracuse.

After seeing his mother, the boy's mind became blank on the happenings of the past few days even to his posing for photographs yesterday, but he talked fluently of the occurrences of the night of his disappearance.

A Kyserike Party.
Kyserike, Dec. 12.—Wednesday evening, December 5, Miss Amy Palen was given a surprise party by a very large number of her friends. The evening was spent in dancing, singing and card playing. Miss Janet Christiana and friends from Ellenville gave an exhibition Charleston dance. There were friends from Kingston, Middletown, Poughkeepsie, New York city, Jersey City and Ellenville. Refreshments were served between 12 and one o'clock, after which several solos were rendered. Then all left about three o'clock in the morning wishing Miss Palen would have a party once a week at least. As the crowd gathered at the cars all sang "We are with you now and hope we come again."

Dame Fashion Smiles

By Grace Jewett Austin

Grace J. Austin.

If there is one word in the vocabulary of women's wear against which Dame Fashion has always had a "complex" or whatever is the proper term for an unreasonable objection, it is the word "wrapper," and she has practically never owned such. But an ardent delight in all things Japanese has always been hers, so when kimonos became as abundant as leaves on trees in summer, she could welcome them with open arms.

In these cold days the crepe kimono or the gay "rookie coat" lacks substance for those north of the Palm Beach level, but the kimono of warm days has just taken a lesson from the mandarin coat of the millionaires and the world travelers, and materializes as a "house coat" which in some instances is as charming as a poet's dream.

What an important thing in the world a woman's hat is! This is meant in the general sense, and not about the individual woman—although if the hat has gone wrong, it will be pretty hard to make the costume effective. What recently impressed

Dame Fashion was the report of a great mass meeting, in the largest city in the world, with representatives of all branches of the millinery industry, present, addressed by the mayor of the city, who was said to "have made a special study of millinery interests."

When Dame Fashion learned that one of the largest associations of collegiate women in the country was to discuss, among other things, this year, "The University Woman in Connection With Fashion and Style," it astonished her somewhat. You see it has generally been taken for granted that the butterflies of the women's world have set the styles, and we soberer folk modify them and trail along after. So the idea that the college woman influences or even leads in styles is quite new and refreshing.

It was not long after when Dame Fashion was told this authoritative word: "The college girl may be looked upon as having brought back the wool frock." Then it is added, "Paris designers have entered keenly into the designing of clothes for the young college woman. Naive dresses for freshmen have unusual charm."

But who knows whether it will result like the bobbed hair? Most of the elders sought for the delightful effect of youth from shorn locks—and then, presto, the girls let their hair grow! "Naive dresses for freshmen" will soon adorn the grandmothers, and the girls will take to the sophisticated attire supposed to be for the mature woman. From before the days of Galileo it has been the custom of pendulums to swing.

But speaking of both gowns and hats, Dame Fashion overheard two girls talking the other day. One was boasting of the comfort she took with her ensemble gown, and how to modify it to make it fit different occasions. Said the other girl, "Maybe some day there will be an ensemble hat invented; little close toque when you want it that way, and then an attachable brim that will make it a sports hat!"

Sunday School League Results

In the Senior Sunday School Basketball League games played at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night, the Clinton Avenue M. E. team beat Port Ewen 27-15; the Congregationalists, after two extra periods, took the hardest battle fought in the league this season from the Redeemers, 25-23, and the Presbyterians outplayed the Albany Avenue Baptist quintet 27-22.

The hectic Congregational-Redeemer set was the feature of the evening. The Redeemers took an 18-9 lead during the first half, which was overcome in the second session when the Congregationalists went on a scoring rampage. With about 30 seconds to go and the score 24-22 in favor of the Redeemers, Rockefeller tied the tally with a neat field goal. After an extra period of five minutes the score was deadlocked at 27 all. Another extra of three minutes was played during which Krum sank a two pointer for the Congregationalists. Hank Dittus of the Redeemers was given two free throws but made good on one, which left the tally 29-25 at the end of the last extra session.

K. H. S. Varsity Starts Friday

Kingston High School varsity basketball team will play its first DUSO League game of the season in the local school gym, Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Port Jervis, which will also be starting its season, is slated as the opposing quintet.

Coach Kias of the local high school team is drilling his men each night and every practice brings out much improvement on the part of first string men. The squad feels the loss of Paul Joyce, who was a strong candidate for a guard berth. He injured his ankle in Kingston's first game of the season against Ellenville.

It is probable that Coach Kias will start the following men to uphold Kingston High School's honor Friday: Jones, rf; Blackwell, lf; Brennan, c; Clarke, rk; Chipp, lg.

Warren to Again Lead Industrials

Charles A. Warren Elected President of Industrial League For Third Time—Awards Made to Players.

Seven team managers of the Industrial Baseball League and a player from each nine were guests of the circuit president, Charles A. Warren, at a duck dinner in Golden Rule Inn, Wednesday night. Following the dinner which was the second annual one a business session cleared up all matters concerning the past season and made tentative plans for next summer. Officers were elected for the future diamond season.

Charles A. Warren was honored for the third time with the presidency of the Industrial Baseball League. E. Frank Flanagan was chosen vice president; John J. Hartman, secretary and scorer and Edward Banks, treasurer.

Awards were given the players who distinguished themselves in the league last summer. Stanley Wojcik of the Columbia nine received a $5 gold piece for leading the batters. Joie Hoffman, Kingston's all-round athlete and a member of the Central Hudson team copped a $5 gold coin for stealing the greatest number of bases and making the most runs.

Flagstead Rates as Great

CATCHER, third baseman, shortstop, outfielder, lumberman, steam fitter, raiser of game chickens and English call ducks, and addicted to sightseeing with an ambition to make a trip around the world that's Ira Flagstead, star hardworking outfielder of the Boston Red Sox.

Rated as one of the greatest outfielders in the game today, Flagstead works hard because he knows no other way. He always has worked hard. He always has tried to give his employer the best he had in him and that's why the Boston fans remembered him with a "Flagstead day" last summer.

Flaggy is more than a mere center fielder. For several years he has been ranked by rookie or crude gardeners at Fenway field and it has been Ira's voluntary task to try to in ill in them some idea of how to play the outfield without wearing a mask and protector to avoid being hit by misjudged fly balls. In fact, Boston writers often have referred to him as the "Sox Outfielder."

And yet Flagstead was everything but an outfielder before he became one of the best fly catchers in the land. There was a ball field across the street from his home in his native town of Montague, Mich., and he was the town team's catcher at the age of sixteen.

Then, he listened to Horace Greeley's advice and went West. He put in two years in a lumber mill in Little Rock, Wash., moved to Olympia, Wash., first as a mill worker, then as a steam fitter. Incidentally, he kept on catching. Finally, at the age of twenty-four, much later in life than the average player breaks into the pro game, he signed with the Tacoma team of the Northwestern league and caught and played third base and the outfield.

He batted .381 and found his way to Detroit, which farmed him out to Chattanooga after using him behind the bat in one exhibition game. He batted .351 in the Southern league also, and back to Detroit he came to remain four seasons and then he sold to Boston, where he has given his best ever since despite discouraging conditions.

For instance, Boston outfielders seldom shift for various batsmen. "Why is that?" retorted Flagstead. "Because we have had so many young pitchers lacking in control. Behind a pitcher who has control like Sam Jones, Uhl, Pennock, Braxton or Hoyt, an outfielder has some idea where the ball is to be pitched and to what field the batter should hit it. But when you are behind a young pitcher who just hopes that his offerings will be strikes, you just trust to luck you are playing the batter correctly."

Oh, yes, he is one of the few ball players who does not play cards. Does not even read during the baseball season as he believes it might affect his batting eyes. And he spends his winters fishing for salmon and trout and raising game roosters and call ducks. Such a life, he opines, will keep him in the majors for a few more years.

Ira Flagstead.

Sporting Squibs

There is more bawl in football than baseball.

Commercializing sport doesn't pay. Suzanne Fienlen has quit tennis for all time.

The Rockwood Hall Country club of Tarrytown, N. Y., is building a second 18-hole golf course.

Jack Quinn, veteran with the Athletics, pitched his first game in 1903, and he is still at it.

Harry Dillon, light heavyweight of Winnipeg, is said to resemble Jack Dillon, the giant killer.

Harry Wolverton, former outfielder with the New York Yankees, is now selling automobiles in Los Angeles.

Arle Mucks, the old shot putter, is now a football official. He stands 6 feet 6 inches and weighs 266 pounds.

Jack Hendricks, for the last five years manager of the Cincinnati Reds, signed a contract to pilot the club in 1930.

George Knothe, shortstop for the Tulsa Oilers, started 73 double plays for his team and figured in 167 during the year.

John J. O'Brien, president of the new National Basketball League, for years has headed court leagues around New York.

Hub Pruett of the Philadelphia Nationals says he will not pitch in 1930. He plans to spend all his time practicing medicine.

Some one mentioned the boxer up-rising the other night and Dora thought that was when Tunney got mad at the photographers.

Purchase of Milton Gordon, young third baseman from the Wilkes-Barre club of the New York-Pennsylvania league, was announced.

Joe Munson, Tulsa outfielder who led the Western league in hitting, never missed a single one of the 165 games played by his club.

Joe Sewell, Cleveland shortstop, led the American league last season in striking out the least number of times. In 153 games Joe whiffed only seven times.

Warren Brown, writes that Otto von Porat has that most precious of all qualities in a heavyweight, "he gets up." Except possibly the precious quality of staying up.

Earl Averhill, crack outfielder of the San Francisco Seals, has been sold to the Cleveland Americans for an unannounced price, but believed to be around $50,000 and two players.

Pai-Sung Tang, a John Hopkins student, plays outside right for the Baltimore Soccer club. He was an all-China selection in 1925 and starred for three years on the Tsing Hue college soccer team.

After one season of experience with it, directors of the Pacific Coast Baseball league in annual session voted to abandon the split season and return to the old straight-through schedule of 25 weeks of play.

"Woman makes up her mind far more quickly than man," observes a novelist. But then she usually is asleep in the art of make-up.—Humor.

Cub Machine Is Creation of Pilot Joe McCarthy

The Cub machine, which appears to have been almost perfectly finished and polished by the acquisition of Rogers Hornsby, is largely the creation of the astute Joe McCarthy.

Since he left the minor leagues to take charge of the Cubs the team has been almost entirely rebuilt, and every move made in the rebuilding was engineered by McCarthy.

He brought Riggs Stephenson back from the miners when every other manager in the major leagues couldn't see him.

He pulled a fast one on the New York Giants when he slipped in a draft claim for Hack Wilson.

He brought Woody English and Freddy Maguire up from the minor leagues, took Art Nehf when he was aired in Cincinnati and arranged the transfer of Hal Carlson from the Phillies.

He secured Kiki Cuyler when he heard that the Pirates had decided to get rid of him, and he was the first one to the counter when a friendly tip brought the information that Hornsby was no longer considered an essential in Boston.

The bureau of fisheries says that the bonito, a member of the mackerel family, probably is the fastest swimmer, but a definite answer is not possible.

Local Scrappers At Newburgh

Four Kingston pugilists are lining up for bouts at the Newburgh armory Friday night and expect to scalp their opponents in decisive manner. SMUGGLERS IN FAST MOTOR

BOATS WORKING BRITONS

Large Incomes Are Being Made by Participants in the Illegal Traffic.

London.—An intensive campaign has been started by the police and customs authorities against smugglers who are operating in fast motor boats from the continent.

Smuggling between Flushing and the mouth of the Thames has reached such proportions that large incomes are being made by a number of people.

The new campaign had a sequel at Stratford police court, where the youthful crew of a motor barge which had tied up at a jetty in the Thames, backing on the lonely Dagenham marshes, was heavily fined for endeavoring to land a parcel of tobacco and a quantity of rum.

"We have known for a long time of this business," said a customs official. "We have known, too, that recently it has grown enormously, but the detection and conviction of the offenders is a difficult matter. It has all arisen through the tremendous developments which have taken place in motor barge traffic between this country and the continent since the war."

"Little wharves up and down the Thames which were formerly derelict, or, at the best, devoted to landing goods by Thames barges only, have taken up a new lease of life."

"In these lonely marshes along the rivers and in the dockside areas there are plenty of small licensed houses where rum and tobacco can be 'planted.'"

"The chief offenders are believed to be Dutchmen. Any day now you may see two or three motor barges from Holland anchored off Southend. They come, perhaps, on the night tide, and anchor purposely close in shore."

"There is nothing to prevent any member of the crew sculling or even wading ashore across the mud to a convenient place where he may land his goods before the revenue authorities can get at him."

"An extraordinarily effective organization sprang up in London during and immediately after the war for the distribution of the forbidden drugs, but control has now been obtained of that traffic, and the smugglers are confining themselves more to the introduction in this country of illicit spirits, tobacco and silk."

Growth of Trees.

The tree you set up at Christmas time and decorate with all sorts of ornaments, takes from six to ten years to grow, according to the American Tree association. Norway red and white spruce and balsam fir are best for this purpose. The best trees for posts, the locust and oak, are grown in from twelve to twenty years. Twenty-five to thirty years are required to produce telegraph and telephone poles.
